

Lansburgh & Bro.
2 Styles
Children's Hats, 25c
1—Children's Sun Bonnets, made of fine chambray, in white, pink and light blue.
2—Children's Pique Hats, edged with narrow braid—a button crown—nice little hat.
This Lawn Wrapper, 88c.

Made of fine Lawn, in pretty light shades, also mourning shades; wide ruffled front and back, edged with a neat braid; Princess back; full front, with girdle; large Bishop sleeves, with deep cuff; full Empire skirt, with deep hem. All sizes from 32 to 44.

Out-of-city Folks.

You are probably not aware that all you need to do is to write to us and you can secure the same value that our city folks buy. Address our Mail Order Department for information, samples and goods at any time.

Lansburgh & Bro.
420, 422, 424, 426 7th St.

S. KANN, SONS & CO.,
8th & Market Space.

GENUINE
SILK GLORIA
UMBRELLAS,
with natural handles, paragon frame and silk stitching. We consider this purchase the best we have made this season.
Worth $1.25, for 69c.

Also 300 very fancy Silk Parasols for children, including Dresden designs, with fancy ruffles.
Worth $1.50.

75c.

S. KANN, SONS & CO.,
8th & Market Space.

LOOK OUT!
When we lock the doors Saturday night this is your opportunity to buy. Until then we offer

25 Per Cent Discount from marked prices on our entire stock of—

Parlor Suites,
Bedroom Suites,
China Cabinets,
Sideboards and Bookcases—

ON CREDIT, TOO!
Easy Weekly or Monthly Payments.

We take down all matting FREE! 1,000 yds. to select from. Refrigerators, all sizes and prices. Baby Carriages from $5.00 to $20.00.

40-pound Hair Mattress, $4.00
Solid oak Extension Table, $2.00
Woven wire Springs, $1.00

GROGAN'S,
819-821-823 7th St. N.W.
BETWEEN H AND I STS.

WILKINS & COMPANY,
208 9th St. N. W.,
Wholesale Agents for

FAIRBANKS COTTOLENE.

EMPIRE CARPET CLEANING WORKS,
601 4th St. N.W.—Opposite K St. N.W.
Dry cleaning best work. Finest work guaranteed, and your carpets insured while in our care.

NEW GOLD DOLLOPS for old gold and silver. G. BLOOM, 226 Pa. ave.

A QUIET HOME CEREMONY

Miss Letitia Scott to Be Married to Lieutenant Charles Bromwell.

Her Aunt Is Vice President Stevenson's Wife—Other Weddings That Have Occurred—Society News.

The wedding of Miss Letitia Scott and Lieutenant Charles Bromwell, of the Army, which will take place on Thursday next at 8 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Matthew Scott, on Sixteenth street, will be a quiet home ceremony, only the immediate families of the couple and a few intimate personal friends being invited to attend.

The bride will be given away by the Vice President, and the marriage will be solemnized by Rev. Dr. Radcliffe, who also officiated at the Stevenson-Hardin wedding.

Miss Scott can trace her descent from the most aristocratic of Colonial families and culturally from a branch of the Washington family. She is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Matt Scott and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson is her aunt.

The groom is a native of Cincinnati and is now a member of the United States Engineer Corps.

After the marriage Lieut. Bromwell will take his bride to Yellowstone Park, where he has recently been detailed for duty.

The graceful young bride will be given in white satin, and her sister, Miss Julia, will wear white mulle and lace. An organ will be placed in the house for the occasion, while an orchestra of stringed instruments will also contribute its sweet strains to the joyousness of the occasion.

The privacy of the affair will by no means be detracting from the richness of the surroundings or the preparations for a ceremony suited to the high position of the contracting parties.

Among the Washingtonians who went over to Baltimore Thursday to attend the wedding of Miss B. Florence Kriele, of that city, and Mr. Dunkin W. Hemming, a civil engineer, of England, now located in New York, were Mrs. and Mr. Frank L. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Campbell, Judge J. B. Seiser, Miss Mary Bradshaw and Miss Carrie Budd.

The handsome home of Mr. Augustus Kriele, on Eutaw Place, was temporarily converted into a chapel, which was erected in one of the parlor windows. Leading to the altar from the dining room was an aisle, divided off by ribbons, through which the bride passed.

The procession was made up of the bridesmaids, maids of honor, flower girls and ushers, the bride attended by her father appearing last. She was groomed in crystal brocade, trimmed with family lace and pearls, over which was draped a veil of tulle held in place by a pearl and diamond sunburst, one of the gifts of the groom.

Misses Jean and Elizabeth Carter of this city, who were among the bridesmaids, wore dresses of white capeline, trimmed respectively with blue and yellow ribbons. Mr. and Mrs. Hemming left after the reception for a visit to Canada, which they will conclude on June 15, when they sail for Europe to make an extensive tour abroad.

The members of the Congressional "Y" were delightfully entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Hurst, on the Condit road.

About sixty-five members left Georgetown on the Great Falls railway, at 6 p. m., and despite a delay of an hour at the end of the road arrived in sufficient good spirits to play havoc with a bounteous supper, which was served "on the green, sunny slope of the hill," under the direction of the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames La Petra, Wood and Foster.

Among those who were present were: Misses Margaret B. Crawford, Helen Nye, May Lee, Florence B. Callahan, Sara E. Smith, Marian Smith, Mamie Smith, Frances Hurst, Jessie B. Stevens, Mabel Claffin, Pearl Houston, Eleanor Cahill, Bertha G. Davis, Bertha Simonds, Grace and Kattie Monte, Louise Browning, Grace Ross, Flora B. Snyder, Anna Hughes, Bertha Reick, Margaret Lewis, and Helen A. Skinner, Mesdames La Petra, Langbell, Foster, Wood and Morgan, Messrs. Alfred Wood, C. Norman Howard, Albert F. Woods, Arthur Willard, Harry Claffin, Robert W. Test, A. Almon Fritzman, Jesse C. Jones, Melville D. Lindsay, J. C. Horn, J. H. Harper, Melville Skinner, R. W. Jones, E. S. LaFetra, W. E. Allen, J. D. Reed, Everett L. Warner, Kysella, W. J. T. Farquhar, A. C. Duck, V. S. Barber, George Little, Dr. Harrison and Joe E. Hurst.

After the supper the party scattered through the woods, gathering later to hear recitations by Miss Snyder and Mr. Test, and to witness a presentation to Miss Reick of a "Y" pin. Miss Reick is the treasurer of the society, and is expected to leave the city shortly. Miss Anna Hughes made the speech of presentation.

The workers of Immanuel Presbyterian Mission and Sunday-school, located at No. 718 Ninth street northeast, held a birthday fete on Tuesday evening last, to celebrate the first anniversary.

The large space was lighted with Japanese lanterns and lamps, and the little chapel was filled with friends and guests of the mission. After a literary and musical program was rendered, all present were served with refreshments, the waiters being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

Miss Marion Leslie Tracy, of North Capitol street, and Mr. Charles H. Veach, of Ecumelia Springs, Ky., were married quietly in Alexandria May 27, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Benson, of that town. The courtship was brief, and the unexpected marriage of the young couple produced the usual surprise manifested on such romantic occasions.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Tennant of Richmond and Hon. Henry Fairfax of Albemarle, Va., was one of the most notable events that have transpired in the City

ers being eight or ten young girls of the Sabbath-school, whose costumes were set off by dainty caps and aprons of bright colors.

Among the many guests were Major Harbach and sister, Mrs. Ely; Mr. and Mrs. Melson Venable, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughes, a number of friends from Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, a party from Quaker Temple Memorial Church and quite a number from the Central Presbyterian Church.

On June 2, 1895, this work was organized in the parlors of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Culbertson, No. 707 Ninth street northeast, and from a handful of earnest workers, has steadily grown in numbers and also in favor with Christian people. The little meeting place is now too small to accommodate the school of ninety members.

CLARK'S, 7th St.
We Will Sell
200 Elegant Duck Suits for Ladies at 98c
They are Worth $2.00.
CLARK'S, 734-736 7th St. N.W.

married in the presence of a gathering of their relatives and friends.

The bride's dress was a stylish fawn-colored wool, with hat and gloves to correspond. Upon the conclusion of the wedding ceremony a dainty collation was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett will reside at No. 2248 Cleveland place.

THE PROPER THING.

GOOD taste cries out against veils upon wheel riders. Ours a warm day, the perspiration and dust, mingled with the dye of the lace, disfigure even the sweetest face. But many fashionable women affect face coverings. Often they are heavy, with figured borders. It is certainly an admission of inability to keep so neatly dressed without awaiting the face. The rich girl feels compelled to distinguish herself in some fashion not imitated easily. For that purpose, upon her bicycle, she wears white gloves. You see dozens of these spotted-haired riders each morning on the Avenue.

A WOMAN in an army blue linen gown, made with coat and skirt, wore a white fanciful shirt, shoes and gloves of white brown leather, a black sailor hat with black ribbons and white spray. There was no touch of gay color, such as is seen in nearly all new summer toilettes.

AN excellent cure for hoarseness is to roast a lemon until it is soft all through; do not allow it to burst. While still hot cut a piece from the end and fill the lemon with as much granulated sugar as it will hold. Then eat it while hot.

To prevent jet from running out in the oven make a little opening in the upper crust and insert a strip or little roll of white paper perpendicularly. The steam will escape through it as through a chimney, and all the juice will be retained in the pie.

To clean a white sailor hat which is soiled remove or cover the band, and scrub thoroughly with 5 cents' worth of salts of soda dissolved in cold water. Be careful not to bend the hat out of shape, as it becomes very stiff when dry. Place in the sun to dry.

RHUBARB stalks are so full of watery juice that it is not desirable to add more water while cooking. Do not peel the stalks, cut in inch or half-inch lengths, and put in a granite dish and sprinkle the sugar over it. Let it stand for several hours, and then stir or cover and bake until tender. There will be ample juice, and the rhubarb will not lose its shape.

WOMEN who wish their families to be fed on the most nourishing and beautiful food will do well to discourage the eating of potatoes in the morning and to provide in their place a well-thought-out breakfast of milk, eggs and milk. Boiled rice of hominy may profitably be exchanged for potatoes at dinner at least three or four times a week, as it is a most admirable food with meat, and easily digested.

CLUB FOR BACHELOR GIRLS.

A UNIQUE club for bachelor women has just been organized in Chicago. Its headquarters will be in a large flat building on Bowen avenue, between Vincennes and Grand.

Route 1. Last night a caber was cut of a dozen young women took possession of the new quarters, each proud of the possession of a bachelor.

The plan of management is this: Each young woman who becomes a club member pays a minimum price of $3.50 per week.

For a single room the price will be from $4 to $4.50 per week. For each suite of eight rooms there is a large double parlor, fitted up handsomely. Besides this there is a big, plain room set apart for sewing, darning, handkerchief washing, and the like.

One feature is a large assembly room, which can be used for meetings, lectures, etc. It is also planned to allow young ladies who wish to furnish their room, wholly or in part, according to their individual tastes.

The club is admirably situated as to car lines, being within a short distance of three downtown lines.

ABOUT WEDDING PRESENTS.

IN these days to the giver the wedding presents question is apt to be a serious, and perplexing one. Once upon a time the selection of a wedding gift was quite a simple matter. There were but few things regarded suitable for this purpose. Since then times have changed. The wedding present may now vary from a Rookwood vase or a cut glass chalice to a magnificent chest of silver.

In fact, anything, if selected with good taste and a sense of its appropriateness is considered a suitable wedding gift. Of course, the check in the wedding present par excellence, but next in popularity is no doubt the chest of silver. These chests are shown in a variety of styles this spring. One of the most expensive costs $2,000 and contains 700 pieces. It comes in both oak and mahogany, with brass mountings, and has five drawers. It contains enough silver to carry one through a lifetime.

ENGAGED PEOPLE, NOTE.

THE president of the Camera Club belongs the credit of having put forward quite the most interesting suggestion yet offered on the subject of the general utilization of the Roentgen rays. His proposal is the eminently practical one that all engaged couples should exchange photographs taken by the new process in order that they may be mutually satisfied that they are undertaking a sound matrimonial investment from the personal point of view. Purchased with entire de vote of each other's skeleton they will be assured against any danger of making harrowing discoveries of physical deficiencies or indolent limbs when it is too late to withdraw from the bargain. But there would, of course, have to be a proviso that any information so obtained should be held sacred in the event of the engagement being broken off.—London World.

AMERICANS ABROAD.

NEWS comes from Paris that the young Castellanes are seen often and evidently on the best of terms.

Their quiet going about together is doing much toward silencing the unpleasant rumors of domestic infidelity.

THE Duchess of Marlborough has been conspicuous at many London functions since her presentation and looked for her taste in dress. At the opera, recently she was seen in a simple gown of white with only a diamond crescent brooch in her hair and a string of pearls at her throat.

AMONG the American debutantes presented at the last London drawing room, Miss Marjorie Sanford, whose home is in the extreme north, was remarkable for the originality of her costume. Her gown was, to be sure, of the regulation white, but took the form of some evening material, with a trimming of pearl lilies, which suggested a snow process in its delicate purity and statelyness.

King's Palace.
Saturday Bargains.
Ribbed Underwear.
Ladies' Vests.
25 dozen Ladies' Swiss Ribbed Vests, crocheted silk shoulder straps, silk crocheted around neck. Strong to sell for 50c. Will go at 21c.

Shirt Waists.
20 dozen Ladies' Percale Waists, variety of pretty patterns—pink, blue, green, lavender, tan, etc. Regular 90c value. At 48c.

Corsets.
100 dozen Corset Corsets, full boned, double stay, laced top. Regular price, 25c. Will go 39c.

Silk Waists.
Elegant Dresden Silk Waist, with full front, finished with velvet to match. The subject severely laced with steel buckle. Crushed velvet collar. Regular price, $5.98. Will go at $4.98.

King's Palace,
812-814 Seventh Street,
715 Market Space.

THE HOUSEWIFE SPEAKS.

IF an article that has become rusty is soaked in kerosene oil for some time, the rust will become loosened and come off very readily.

A LITTLE kerosene is an excellent thing for cleaning a zinc bath tub. Apply with a soft wooden cloth, then wash off with hot water—no soap in it—and polish with powdered bath brick.

AN excellent cure for hoarseness is to roast a lemon until it is soft all through; do not allow it to burst. While still hot cut a piece from the end and fill the lemon with as much granulated sugar as it will hold. Then eat it while hot.

To prevent jet from running out in the oven make a little opening in the upper crust and insert a strip or little roll of white paper perpendicularly. The steam will escape through it as through a chimney, and all the juice will be retained in the pie.

To clean a white sailor hat which is soiled remove or cover the band, and scrub thoroughly with 5 cents' worth of salts of soda dissolved in cold water. Be careful not to bend the hat out of shape, as it becomes very stiff when dry. Place in the sun to dry.

RHUBARB stalks are so full of watery juice that it is not desirable to add more water while cooking. Do not peel the stalks, cut in inch or half-inch lengths, and put in a granite dish and sprinkle the sugar over it. Let it stand for several hours, and then stir or cover and bake until tender. There will be ample juice, and the rhubarb will not lose its shape.

WOMEN who wish their families to be fed on the most nourishing and beautiful food will do well to discourage the eating of potatoes in the morning and to provide in their place a well-thought-out breakfast of milk, eggs and milk. Boiled rice of hominy may profitably be exchanged for potatoes at dinner at least three or four times a week, as it is a most admirable food with meat, and easily digested.

CLUB FOR BACHELOR GIRLS.

A UNIQUE club for bachelor women has just been organized in Chicago. Its headquarters will be in a large flat building on Bowen avenue, between Vincennes and Grand.

Route 1. Last night a caber was cut of a dozen young women took possession of the new quarters, each proud of the possession of a bachelor.

The plan of management is this: Each young woman who becomes a club member pays a minimum price of $3.50 per week.

For a single room the price will be from $4 to $4.50 per week. For each suite of eight rooms there is a large double parlor, fitted up handsomely. Besides this there is a big, plain room set apart for sewing, darning, handkerchief washing, and the like.

One feature is a large assembly room, which can be used for meetings, lectures, etc. It is also planned to allow young ladies who wish to furnish their room, wholly or in part, according to their individual tastes.

The club is admirably situated as to car lines, being within a short distance of three downtown lines.

ABOUT WEDDING PRESENTS.

IN these days to the giver the wedding presents question is apt to be a serious, and perplexing one. Once upon a time the selection of a wedding gift was quite a simple matter. There were but few things regarded suitable for this purpose. Since then times have changed. The wedding present may now vary from a Rookwood vase or a cut glass chalice to a magnificent chest of silver.

In fact, anything, if selected with good taste and a sense of its appropriateness is considered a suitable wedding gift. Of course, the check in the wedding present par excellence, but next in popularity is no doubt the chest of silver. These chests are shown in a variety of styles this spring. One of the most expensive costs $2,000 and contains 700 pieces. It comes in both oak and mahogany, with brass mountings, and has five drawers. It contains enough silver to carry one through a lifetime